SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Board of Administration, Springfield, Illinois:

GENTLEMEN—I have the honor to submit the thirty-second biennial report of the Illinois School for the Blind, which covers the period beginning July 1, 1910, and ending September 30, 1912.

ATTENDANCE.

During the period covered by this report, there have been admitted to the Illinois School for the Blind, 80 pupils. The total number enrolled 260. The average enrollment was 195 and the average attendance was 186.37, while the actual number present September 30, 1912, was 194.

At the present writing twenty applications are on file, fifteen of whom will be admitted during the next thirty days. Since the home teaching of the adult blind began throughout the State, many blind children have been reached who had no knowledge of the school; a number of these have been promptly admitted and are now receiving instructions in the different departments of the school. With the coöperation of the home teachers who are alert to the interest of all blind, and who, in connection with their duties, act as field agents for the institution, an increased attendance is certain.

DISPOSITION OF SPECIAL APPROPRIATIONS.

The amount of $3,500.00 per annum was allowed for repairs and improvements. This sum has been judiciously expended save a small balance. From this appropriation the following improvements have been made: The interior of five buildings painted; general repairs have been made on dining-rooms, making them lighter and more attractive; tile and hardwood floors have been laid and the sanitary condition of the kitchen and bakery greatly improved. The girls' playground has been much improved with 1,500 square feet concrete walks. The second floor of a substantial brick building has been converted into a four ward detention hospital. This facility was very much needed and we are now in a position to care for contagious diseases without exposing other patients. A drug room has also been built in the hospital. Fairbanks wagon scales have been installed. The damages done by windstorm to the extent of $600.00, were also repaired from this fund.

Girls Cottage, Illinois School for the Blind

Five hundred dollars per annum was allowed for the Free Circulating Braille library and is being expended for this purpose. Many volumes of Braille books have been added to this library, which will bring happiness and cheer to men and women who are living inactive lives because of loss of sight.

A special appropriation of $300.00 was granted to build a new silo. An Oregon Fir silo of 90 ton capacity has been built and filled with ensilage. This will furnish sufficient feed for our herd through the year.

The amount of $800.00 was allowed for new pianos. Of this sum $500.00 has been expended in the purchase of two new pianos, leaving a balance of $300.00 with which to buy another instrument.

The amount of $500.00 was granted for a new mangle. The installation of this machine has greatly facilitated labor in the laundry.

Appropriations Needed.

I respectfully recommend the following appropriations for the next biennial period:

Ordinary operating expenses for year beginning July 1, 1913, for 210 pupils, based upon a net per capita cost of $300.00....	$63,000 00
Ordinary operating expenses for year beginning July 1, 1914, for 210 pupils, based upon a net per capita cost of $300.00....	63,000 00
Ordinary operating expenses for year beginning July 1, 1913, for 210 pupils, based upon a gross per capita cost of $310.00..	65,100 00
Ordinary operating expenses for year beginning July 1, 1914, for 210 pupils, based upon a gross per capita cost of $310.00..	65,100 00
Ordinary repairs and improvements, per annum.....	3,500 00

Extraordinary Repairs and Improvements.

The sum of $1,200.00 for 100 squares of new slate roof on one of the wings of the Main Building. Money expended for further repairs on the old roof would be wasted.

The sum of $4,000.00 for building a 22x40 two-story store house, including cold storage facilities. The estimate on cold storage and store house as per rough sketch (attached hereto) is approximately 14 cents per cubic foot. This institution has no cold storage facilities and the erection of this building would be great economy to the school.

The sum of $3,000.00 for a new chimney 100 feet high, 6 feet inside diameter, to be built at boiler house in place of that which is inadequate and somewhat unsafe.

The sum of $800.00 per annum for maintaining and enlarging the Free Circulating Library. This library is no part of the school apparatus, but is kept up for the benefit of the adult blind throughout the State, therefore this sum has not been included in our ordinary operating expenses. The patrons of this library have increased in number until it became necessary one year ago to employ a librarian who spends nearly all her time issuing books. Her salary is paid from this appropriation and the balance is expended in the purchase of Braille books.

The sum of $1,400.00 for installing new action, new wind chest and electric motor power for pipe organ. Music plays an important part in the education of blind children and the repairs on this splendid instrument should not be overlooked.

Graduates.

The following are the names and addresses of those who were graduated from the High School during the past two years: Ellsworth G. Smith, Chicago; Louis W. Rodenberg, Fort Gage; George W. Hesse, O'Fallon; Edward S. Collins, Chicago; Frank J. Auburn, Decatur; Ruth Needel, Chicago; Harold J. Konrad, Chicago; Maude M. Varley, Roodhouse; Riley C. Cadle, Raymond; Klaus Mamongay, Chana; Irma G. Smith, Chicago.

Five of the above named graduates have returned to the school to take up post-graduate work and to continue a course in music begun while pursuing the literary course.

After graduation a number of our pupils pursue higher courses of study elsewhere, enter colleges of osteopathy, law schools or follow trades which they have learned. At present, two are in the College of Osteopathy at Kirksville, Mo.; two are in a college of osteopathy at Los Angeles, Cal.; one is studying law in the University of Minnesota. Many find the profession of teaching music and tuning pianos remunerative, while others are engaged in broom making, carpet weaving, chair caning and other trades. The greatest problem that confronts the blind is not that of receiving an education, but rather the problem of securing employment after their training is completed. The trained blind do many things well, such as trades mentioned above, but the lack of confidence which the public has in them is keenly felt and but few avenues in the commercial world are open to those deprived of sight.

Importance of Early Training.

Children who are deprived of sight should be given every educational advantage possible. If blind from infancy and educable, they should be placed at the age of six years in this school where special provisions are made for instructing them, or if living in Chicago, they may be educated in the public schools under the supervision of Mr. John B. Curtis. The blind in the home which is poor are of necessity left much of the time to themselves, becoming more dependent as the years pass—due to the lack of playful activity which makes seeing children robust and strong. The blind child at home is kept indoors when he should be romping about with his more fortunate brother; he is kept at home when he should be mingling with other children and he is encouraged in idleness instead of industry. As a result of his inactive life, he has no confidence in himself, no independence. While the blind child in the average home which is well to do is indulged and waited upon and thus handicapped instead of helped. If children dependent on this institution for instruction enter at the proper age, the opportunity of placing them on the same footing with seeing children is greatly increased. If placed in the schoolroom where their limitations are recognized in early childhood, where correction and constant supervision are given, he has many advantages over the child who is kept at home until he is ten or twelve years of age forming traits and habits peculiar to blind children. Many parents consider the education of their blind children of greatest importance; they see the necessity of early training and do not wait until the best years for study are passed, but sacrifice the pleasure of having them at home under their own care and send them to this school at the earliest age possible; keep them here from the first to the last day of school term. These are the pupils who stand at the head of their classes, get the most possible from the school and become best equipped to enter life's struggle. On the other hand, some parents who love their children "not wisely but too well," or either through neglect or indifference, take no interest in their education and training, but allow them to grow up in idleness when an education is offered by the State to every blind child within its borders capable of receiving instruction.

Courses of Study.

The literary department embraces one year in the Kindergarten, eight years in the grades and four years in the High School course. If a child enters the Kindergarten and is promoted regularly at the end of each term he may receive a certificate of graduation from the school upon the completion of his work. Pupils from other schools who become residents of this State will be received and given full credit for work done elsewhere.

In connection with the literary work pupils may pursue a course in music, piano tuning, manual training and physical culture. The curriculum has been carefully outlined to develop the pupil mentally and physically, to make him resourceful and so far as possible to make him selfsustaining after his school days are passed. We are endeavoring to make our instruction in each department as useful and practical as possible, to maintain the early high standard of the school and to have the influence and training felt for good in every home and community from which our boys and girls come. To this end we have studied the development and progress of other schools that we might keep abreast of the latest and most advanced methods of instructing the blind so that children under our supervision may receive the greatest benefit from the training given.

Outline of Courses.

Kindergarten—Circle songs, games and stories; gifts; modeling; kindergarten handwork on paper and loomweaving.

Grades—Braille reading, Braille writing (Braille slates and Hall Braille writers), language, spelling, grammar, literature, arithmetic, algebra, history, geography, elementary science, manual training, morals and manners, physical culture.

High School—(Freshman) rhetoric, algebra, physiology, English history. (Sophomore) physical geography, Greek and Roman history, physics, algebra II, spelling, American literature. (Junior) English literature, mediaeval and modern history, commercial law, German, geometry. (Senior) German, psychology, American history, civics and economics, Latin.

Music.

Piano—Our course in pianoforte study grades from the most elementary instruction to quite advanced work. Pupils may begin piano study upon leaving the Kindergarten department and unless for some good reason it is found necessary to drop them, may continue during their entire school course. The music in Braille notation available from our own printing office is of the very highest order, including etudes and pieces from all the great writers for the piano, so that our pupils are given only the very best grade of music.

Organ—After four or five courses in piano if a pupil gives evidence of sufficient talent to warrant it, he is allowed to take up the study of the organ. Here again our available literature includes such etudes as those of Carl, Whiting and Buck, besides compositions by all the eminent composers for the organ. The material to be studied is selected with the aim in view to give the pupil a course which will fit him to hold an organ position in the church. When the pupil reaches a certain required standard of advanced work in the piano or organ course, he is permitted to give a recital which partakes of the nature of a graduating recital, although no diploma is given.

Harmony—Because of the fact that the work in harmony is of necessity slower than that of sighted pupils, our course in this branch covers a period of three years. The text books used are those of Norris and Emery.

Violin—Violin instruction may be pursued by pupils who have learned the Braille notation, as is true in piano and organ. The Sevcik method of bowing and fingering is taught. The work is begun with the study of Sevcik, Op. 6 and Hohman, followed by Wohlfarth, Op. 45, Book No. 2, and Op. 57, also Kayser and Hermann. Maza's and Kreutzer's etudes are studied as the pupils advance and pieces assigned to pupils according to ability in the progress of advancement.

Vocal—Private voice lessons are taken up after the pupil has reached the seventh or eighth grades and after he has had four or five years training in the music course similar to that taught in the public schools. The course in voice culture includes technique and the art of singing with such songs studies and exercises as are considered necessary for the individual: also, songs ranging from the very simple ones up to the classics: solo selections from the oratorios and operas, covering in all about six grades. In the grades modern music series by Eleanor Smith is used as in other schools, except that the notes are read by touch instead of sight. High school pupils study selections from the oratorios, operas and great choral works.

Manual Training.

Sloyd, carpet weaving, broom-making, chair-caning, basketry and beadwork, domestic science and sewing.

Physical Culture.

Military tactics, plain, fancy and figure marching. Swedish and German gymnastics, drills with Indian clubs, dumb bells, wands, hoops, rings and sashes; work on the parallel bars, horizontal bars, traveling and flying rings, horse, stall bars, climbing ropes, poles and trapeze work. Special attention is given to corrective gymnastics.

Alumni Association.

The Alumni Association of the Illinois School for the Blind, founded in 1887, meets biennially at this institution, holding its convention on the two days following the school commencement. The catalog of the association now contains 243 names, 31 deceased, and 212 living members. At the meeting held in June, 1912, seventy members were in attendance, representing all but a few of the classes which have been graduated. This was the twelfth regular convention of the association, and marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of its birth. General good will and hearty fellowship were shown among the members and the association as a whole manifested a high degree of interest in the welfare of the school and the blind of the State.

Several resolutions or acts were passed by the association at its business meeting on June 5th, one of the resolutions recommends to the heads of the various departments of the State which have to do with the education and care of the blind, the employment of blind persons who are properly trained, where this may be done without detriment to the service. By another resolution the alumni asked that the superintendent and the Board of Administration use their best efforts to secure an increased appropriation for the support of the Free Circulating Library for the Blind, operated in connection with this school. An Act passed by the association established an alumni trust fund to be used in aiding by loans needy blind persons of the State in the furtherance of their education or to assist them in business. A temporary committee appointed for this purpose took subscriptions to the fund among members amounting to $110.00. Later a permanent committee to have the fund in charge and to make further collections was appointed, consisting of E. J. Nolan, Chairman, Arthur Jewell, Secretary and Treasurer, J. E. Reynolds, Lillian A. Smith and Helen Tiedemann. Another Act passed established an agency to secure employment for blind persons.

The association voted a memorial to Wilhelm Heinrich, of the class of 1883, deceased December 26, 1911, expressing its deep sorrow at the early death of this distinguished alumnus, and voicing its high appreciation of the bequest to the school made by him of his large and valuable collection of embossed music.

The officers elected by the association for the ensuing term of two years are: Charles Munson, President; Auguste Bloedorn, Vice President; Arthur Jewell, Secretary, and J. A. Wagner, Treasurer.

Before adjournment a committee conveyed to the authorities of the school the thanks of the association for the hospitality and cordial treatment tendered its members during the alumni reunion.

William Heinrich.

The Illinois School for the Blind has sent out a goodly number of students, men and women, who have won success and recognition by their work in literary, musical or industrial lines. Probably no one has been more conspicuously successful or has better deserved success than Wilhelm Heinrich. He was born in 1865 at Rockford, Ill., of German parentage. His father was a violinist from Beyreuth, Bavaria, the great center of Wagnerian opera and pursued his musical calling in orchestras in the United States. Wilhelm inherited his father's musical nature, and grew up in a musical atmosphere.

A seeming tragedy in his life was the loss of sight at six years through sickness. It did not cut short his musical career, however. He was sent to the Illinois School for the Blind, Jacksonville, where he received thorough training in voice, piano, violin and harmony, with constant practice in choral and orchestral work. Besides his great natural gifts he was an untiring student, and usually took first rank in all his studies. When he graduated in 1882 at the age of seventeen, he took the first honors of his class and gave the valedictory oration on "The Motive of the True Artist."

In the meantime his father had died without being able to provide for the further musical education of the gifted boy. Undaunted by this, however, with the advice and encouragement of a few friends, he made his way to the musical centers, Boston and New York. By his natural gifts, his indomitable energy and industry and winning personality he made valuable friends. He was very successful in teaching, concert work and choir singing. He was for many years tenor in the choir of Edward Everett Hale's church in Boston and in Dr. Judson's church in New York.

In addition to his musical studies he acquired the Italian, French and Spanish languages, together with his native English and German.

He was finally enabled to carry out his cherished wish to visit the musical centers of the Old World for further study and inspiration. In Germany he enjoyed the instruction of Herr Jules Stockhausen, the teacher of Jenny Lind and Christine Nilsson. From him and other masters in Germany, France and Italy, he learned much of the history of music and brought home treasures of song, heretofore unpublished for his historical recitals. These were given not only in eastern cities, but in concert tours.

It seems mysterious to us that such a career should be cut short at its height of success. In the opening of a busy season full of important engagements, he was stricken by a mortal disease, cancer of the stomach, and passed away after a few weeks of suffering on December 27, 1911. It was characteristic of his kindly thoughtfulness that he left his valuable library of music, manuscripts, etc., to the Illinois School for the Blind, his alma mater. As of Mendelssohn, it may be said of him, "On such a life it is good to look. For once, genius is not set forth as a dazzling screen to hide and excuse disorder and crime, but was employed as heaven would have directed it, bringing forth that extraordinary moral and intellectual worth, that rare beauty of character that endeared him to all who knew him."

Free Circulating Library.

One of the most important departments of the institution, though, not directly connected with the work of the school, is the Free Circulating library. This department has assumed a place of prominence in work for the blind; it has supplied a longfelt need by furnishing a ready source of entertainment and instruction for the many blind people scattered throughout the State. To the sightless persons who must remain at home a great part of the time, the value of literature in cheering and enlivening their lonely hours can scarcely be overestimated. From September, 1911, to July, 1912, 5,005 books, pamphlets and periodicals were distributed through the mails to 431 regular readers outside the school. There is no doubt that the sphere of usefulness of this library is constantly widened and will increase even more rapidly now that the adult blind are being systematically instructed.

For the health conditions in this school during the past two years, for the sources of blindness and the treatment for impaired sight, I beg to call your attention to the reports of the physician and oculist appended to this report. I am,

Respectfully yours,

R. W. Woolston,

Superintendent.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

Mr. R. W. Woolston, Managing Officer, Illinois School for the Blind, Jacksonville, Illinois:

Dear Sir—I respectfully submit a report of the health conditions of the institution for that part of the biennial period ending September 30, 1912, during the time which I was physician, namely, from September, 1910, to September, 1911. from October 17 to November 1, 1911, and from March 22 to September 30, 1912.

During these periods the following cases were treated in the hospital. There were a number of cases of temporary illness not included in this report:

Malaria	10	Indigestion	22
Acute colds	28	Dislocation of ankle	1
Meningitis	1	Dysmenorrhoea	1
Typhoid fever	1	Pneumonia	1
Epilepsy	3	Otitis media	2
Migraine	1	Fracture of arm	1
Furunculosis	1	Appendicitis	1

Generally speaking the health of the pupils has been good, with the exception of those times when there were epidemics of scarletina. measles and diphtheria.

I congratulate you upon the completion of an isolation hospital for the treatment of contagious diseases. This will greatly assist in the further securing and protecting the health of the student body.

For your kindly interest, your coöperation and willingness to provide for the treatment and care of the sick I thank you.

Very respectfully,

George E. Baxter.
Physician.

OCULIST'S REPORT.

Mr. R. W. Woolston, Managing Officer, Illinois School for the Blind, Jacksonville, Illinois:

DEAR SIR—I hereby respectfully submit my report as oculist of the Illinois School for the Blind.

As has been the custom in the past, an examination of each applicant to the school, has been made, and a record kept showing the cause of blindness, the amount of vision, if any, and the condition of eyes at the time of examination. This examination is made to determine: First, if the applicant should be educated by the methods used in a school for the blind. Each year one or more persons are advised to have treatment or operation to secure vision or are found to have sufficient vision to go to the public schools. Second, to see if the conditions of the eyes can be improved by operation or treatment, so as to retain or improve the remnant of sight present. Treatment has been given those requiring it, for relief from pain, to improve vision, and to prevent any risk of spreading a contagious eye disease. No adequate definition of blindness is obtainable. Some applicants with a moderate amount of vision have eyes so diseased that any use of them would be at great risk—others have eyes in a healthy condition but with lowered vision, where moderate use of the eyes would not be harmful. In the latter class very slow progress is made in using type for the blind, while fair progress is made if too much work is not attempted in seeing schools. Any applicant desiring admission should have an examination and certificate from a physician familiar with diseases and defects of the eye. This certificate should state that no material benefits could be had by medical, surgical treatment or glasses. Those from Chicago or vicinity should secure certificate from surgeons from the Illinois Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary, 227 W. Adams st., Chicago, Ill. Those suffering from deafness or diseased ears are also given careful attention. This is of special importance because of their lost or impaired vision.

Attention is respectfully called to the need of increased hospital facilities. Especially a modern operating room with suitable accessories

Classification of the Blind According to Age at Time of Entrance.

Age.	Total.	Male.	Female.	Age.	Total.	Male.	Female.
Five years	10	6	4	Forty-one to fifty	43	41	2
Six to ten	154	87	67	Fifty to sixty	16	16	.....
Eleven to fifteen	181	113	68	Not given	13	11	2

Twenty-one to thirty	98	61	37
Thirty-one to forty	49	43	61	Total	699	441	258

The amount of vision of pupils varies from those totally blind to those having a small amount of vision (20-50). In reference to the amount of vision I have divided them into four classes.

The Degree of Blindness.

First class—Those who can distinguish large types, as the head of a newspaper, or even somewhat smaller type, but from disease of the eyes should not read but for a very brief time	132
Second class—Those who are able to see large objects and not better than 20-150	118
Third class—Those having merely perception of light	246
Fourth class—Those totally blind	203
Total	699

There were several pupils who said that they were in an intense bright light continually, which was probably caused by irritation of the optic nerve or brain at the origin of the same. The classification of Magnus has been followed in considering the causes of blindness.

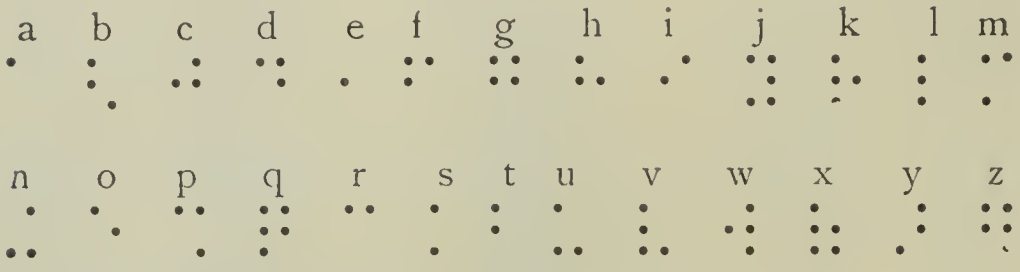
AMERICAN BRAILLE.

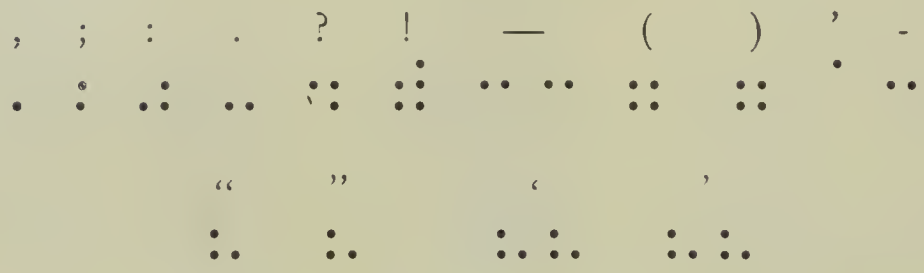
To write on a Braille tablet begin at the right; to read, reverse the sheet and begin at the left. In either case the six points (⠿) of which the characters are formed, are numbered from the top, 1, 2, 3, for the first vertical row, and 4, 5, 6, for the second.

ALPHABET.



To capitalize a letter prefix to it points 3 and 6 (⠨).

MARKS OF PUNCTUATION.

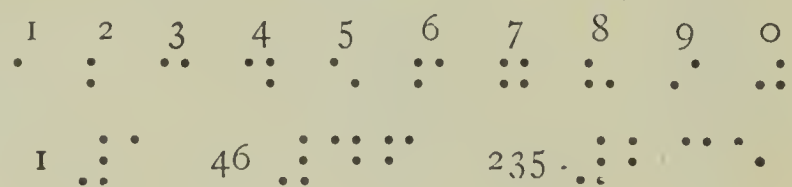


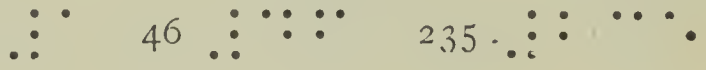
The apostrophe is point 4. The other marks, except the exclamation, are formed of points 2, 3, 5 and 6.

When two or more initial letters requiring the capital sign occur together, the space which separates words may be omitted; the period which follows the first letter then becomes also the prefix, or capital sign, for the next; thus,  F. R. S.

NUMERALS.

When alone or in combination the following letters, if prefixed by the numeral sign (⠼), become numbers.





INITIAL LETTERS USED AS WORD SIGNS.

but could down from great have just know like m not quite right should the under very will you

When the above words are parts of other words the initial letter must not be used as a representative; e. g. ⠓ when standing alone represents "know," but "knowledge" should be written an and ar ch ed en er for in ing is ot on or ou ow st th or that tion wh or which

OTHER CHARACTERS USED AS WORD AND PART WORD SIGNS.

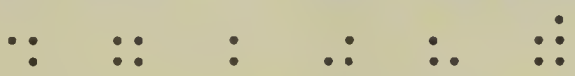
The following characters, with one exception, are formed of points 2, 3, 5, 6. When separated from words by the omission of a cell, they are word signs, as follows:

had their to was with would



The letter x (⠭) when standing alone is used as an asterisk.

The letter d followed by a period ⠙⠲ is used as the dollar sign and should be immediately followed by the numeral sign; thus—

$23·75

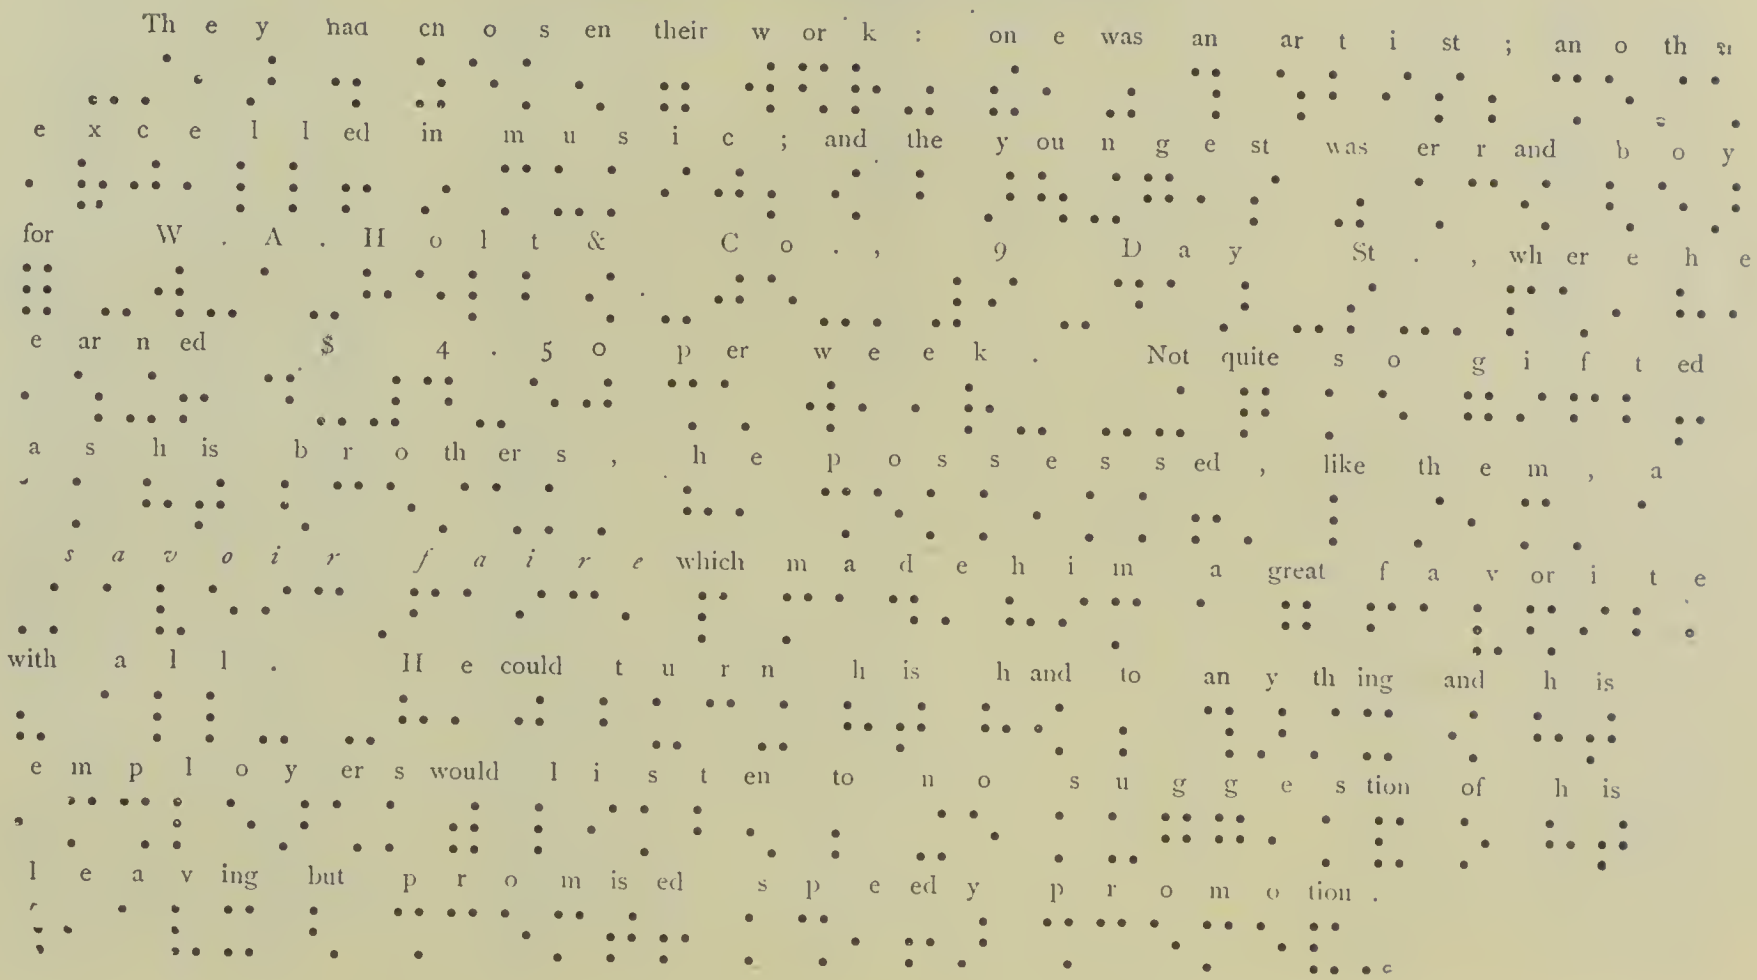
An italicized word is indicated by the prefix of point 6 (⠨).

Lines of poetry are separated by the omission of three cells.

The capital sign preceding a contraction capitalizes only the first letter of the contraction.

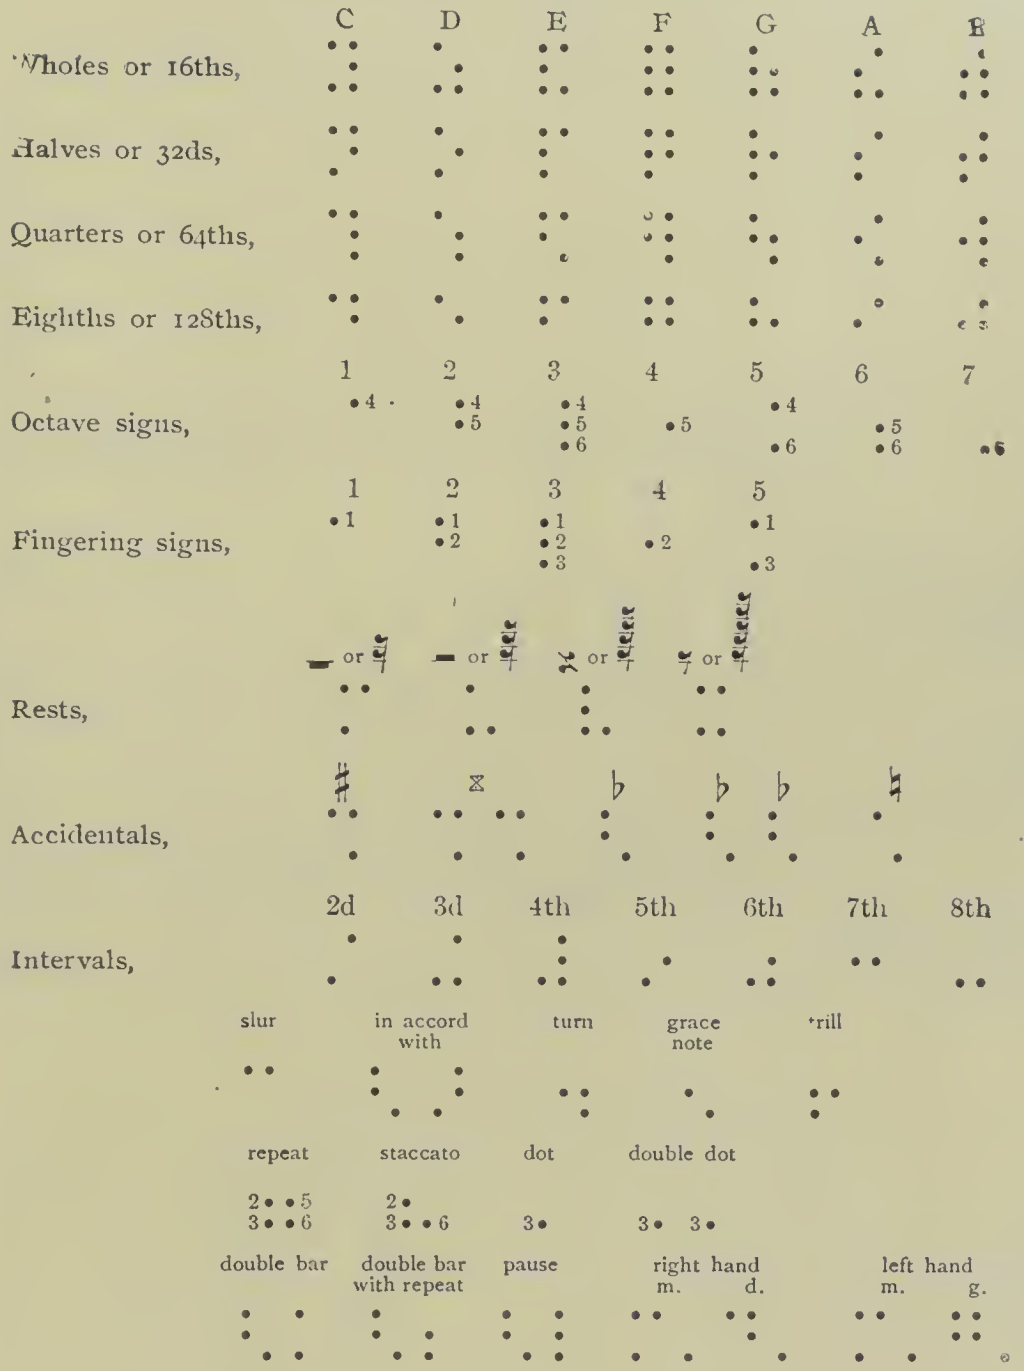
The ordinary rules of grammar should be closely followed; hence correct syllabication must be observed, and a monosyllable should never be divided.

Strict conformity to general grammatical laws and the special rules preceding, are essential to a correct use of the American Braille, and the use of signs in any other way than that hereby authorized is as inelegant and incorrect as similar changes in ordinary writing.



They had chosen their work: one was an artist; another excelled in music; and the youngest was errand boy for W. A. Holt & Co., 9 Day St., where he earned $4.50 per week. Not quite so gifted as his brothers, he possessed, like them, a savoir faire which made him a great favorite with all. He could turn his hand to anything and his employers would listen to no suggestion of his leaving but promised speedy promotion.

BRAILLE MUSIC ALPHABET.



Expression marks are represented by the abbreviations ordinarily used in music for the seeing. Characters standing for letters must be preceded by the word sign (⠰).

Provision is made in Braille for the special signs which occur in music written for violin, guitar, organ, voice, etc. For further information, consult the pamphlet published by the British and Foreign Blind Association 4 Cambridge Square, Hyde Park, London.
